

Monica Aragon

8 months ago

Darlene was an inspirational woman. She always stood up for what was right even if she had to stand alone. Darlene was an asset to Los Lunas Schools and spent the majority of her time and energy into her teaching career. Darlene was determined to provide her students with a good quality education. May God bless you with love, comfort, joy, and happiness. It was an honor and a blessing to have you as a mentor and a friend.

Monica Aragon

 Like 0

Share

Rj Mirabal

9 months ago

Darlene was one of my very good friends during all her years teaching at Los Lunas High and for years afterward though our contact was mostly through messages and Facebook. I cannot remember anyone more dedicated to her students. She was not only concerned for their education but for their development into fine human beings. Her standards were high and as a result, many did some of their best work under her guidance. I'll never forget what a big heart she had and her undying devotion to all her "critters." Rest In Peace, Darlene, for I know you're loving all the creatures in Heaven.

Like 1

Share

Rick Cole

9 months ago

Darlene and I had many conversations about life, students, learning and the many adventures of teaching. She was passionate about excellence in all that she did and all that her students did. She focused on helping students develop character, learn the wisdom to distinguish right from wrong and pursue what is right, learn to be responsible and enjoy life to the fullest and to respect those around you with dignity and care regardless of who they were or where they came from. She didn't cower to overbearing administrators when choosing to do what was morally prudent for students as opposed to implementing some arbitrary and vague guideline that only fomented confusion and chaos in the minds of students and the classrooms of school. Petite in size, she was big in ambition to set high standards for student achievement, big in heart to care for people around her and big in a zest to live a fruitful and meaningful life. Thanks, Darlene, for seeking to live a life of Godly character and inspiring others accordingly.

Write a comment...

Post

Kim Johnston

2 months ago

My heart is broken with the news of Ms. Goodman's passing. She was an amazing teacher and she was a great friend. I reconnected with her after high school and she loved retirement! We exchanged conversation over Christmas about a gift she had made for a child and admired her giving heart. Ms. Goodman, you were a beautiful lady- inside and out. Thank you for sharing your knowledge with me. Thank you for always thinking of others. I'm going to miss your words of encouragement but I know you'll continue to watch over all of us like you did here on Earth. I will miss you.

 Like 1

Share

Write a comment...

Post

Rachael Nicholas-Mark

6 months ago

I am sorry for your loss.

I never forgot Ms. Goodman after graduating from Los Lunas High School. I was one of her students and also a student aide for her Freshman class when I was a Senior. I will continue to remember her in all of the my days throughout the remainder of my life.

I consider myself extremely blessed to have been in her presence. She is one of the reasons why I have a beautiful life. I know that she is in a really good place now.

Sincerely,

Ms. Rachael Nicholas-Mark

